

Web Report

Rick & Dianna Lang

SIBERIAN SCOPE

different time zone, different language, different culture, same need...
G O D.

Tatiana

Tatiana woke to the sound of barking dogs and strange, but familiar, tormenting voices. In this frozen isolated corner of Siberia it is widely known that dogs and farm livestock recognize the presence of evil spirits. This is not a strange testimony coming from a person who has just given her life to the Lord. Tatiana's people, known for centuries as the Soyats, live in the Sayani Mountains. They have been a lost people to the rest of the world. Their life consists of appeasing false gods, living under the agony of evil spirits, and surviving through the harsh winters.

Then two young ladies, with a call of God on their lives, traveled the obscure century-old road to the village of Orlik. Surrounded by white capped mountains, only travelable through a narrow pass that some people call a road but others describe it as a direction. Svetlana, of Soyat decent and graduate of the State Music University along with Nina, of Russian decent and a graduate of Siberian Theological College began to spread the Gospel among the people of Orlik. Nina and Svetlana serve in order to make a difference in the lives of people like Tatiana.

Svetlana

Since arriving in this village, these two ladies have endured threats on their lives from powerful people. They have been cursed by the local Shaman. They have been told if they build a house of worship, it will be burned down.

Nina

The problem is, there is no house of worship nor a place to live for these two young ladies. The solution is simple, buy a log cabin that can serve as a parsonage and be used also as a house of worship. The cost of a simple log cabin, with no running water, a pot belly stove to cook on and to heat with costs $16,000. The believers in Orlik have $8,000 saved but they need another $8,000. Winter comes early in the Sayani Mountains. Nonetheless, the need of these two young ladies is urgent, they need a place to live and soon!

The response must be quick. Will you help? Thank you in advance.

Remember, Tatiana? She learned from other believers that by praying in the name of Jesus and pleading his blood on/around her house, her family, and the farmyard, deliverance comes. "Miraculous," says Tatiana, "the evil spirits left our home and farmyard." "My family has been freed from the fear and torment, the blanket of the peace of God covers us while we sleep."

Send your gifts to:
Assemblies of God World Missions, 1445 Boonville, Springfield MO 65802

Please make a note on your gift: Missionary Acct # 2242808 - Class 60 - Orlik

